

Comparing the Post War Decades

Key:

African Americans
Joseph McCarthy
Rosenbergs
Levittown
Communism
Immigrants
Model T

Federal highway Act
Sacco and Vanzetti
Suburbs
Communism
Flappers
Palmer Raids
Greasers

Consumer goods
Nineteenth
Beat Generation
Housewife
Radio
Television
League of Nations

Harlem Renaissance
Installment plans
Jazz
United Nations
Rock 'n' Roll

1920s

1950s

| Fear of | Fear | Fear of |
|---|------------------------------------|---|
| The Attorney General along with the FBI hunted down communists despite failing to turn up any real evidence. 550 immigrants were deported as a result of _____ | Blame | Senator _____ blamed the government officials of being Communists. Failed to turn up legitimate evidence and caused mass hysteria. |
| _____ were Italian anarchist immigrants who accused of murder based off little evidence. Their conviction was an example of the extreme prejudice there was against immigrants at the time. | Pair in the Electric Chair | The _____ died in the electric chair because they were suspected of having Communist connections and giving nuclear bomb secrets to the Soviets. |
| KKK and nativism rises in the 1920s targeting mostly _____ | KKK | In the 1950s the KK's main target were _____ because of the growing civil rights movement. |
| Affordable _____ led to more independence for women and teens, more jobs in the Midwest, people traveling for pleasure, the creation of paved roads. | Automobile | In the 1950s there was a car culture that was sparked by the creation of hundreds of miles of new highways because of the _____. |
| People could now move to _____ (housing outside of major cities) because the Model T allowed them to commute to work. | Homes | In the 1950s, _____ was the example of the ideal suburban neighborhood. |
| In the 1920s, there was an increased standard of living. People bought items like washing machines, vacuum cleaners, and sewing machines. Many of these items were bought using _____ | Consumerism | In the 1950s, people made more money and spent more on _____ such as washing machines, lawn mowers, dishwashers, and cars. The first credit card was also created. |
| Women worked in factories during WWI and enjoyed more personal freedom. As a result of the war, the _____ Amendment was passed, granting women's suffrage. | Women After the War | During WWII, women worked in factories but lost their jobs to returning soldiers. Women of the '50s were expected to be perfect _____. This stereotype was reinforced by society and the media. |
| In the '20s, the first form of mass media was the _____ | Mass Media | In the 1950s, the new form of mass media was the _____ |
| As a result of the Treaty of Versailles, the _____ was formed as an international peacekeeping organization. It was largely ineffectual. | Postwar Peace Organizations | After WWII, a new international peacekeeping organization was formed called the _____ |
| _____ was the popular music of the 1920s, which symbolized the freedom and excitement of the age. | New Music | _____ was the popular music of the 1950s, which grew out of African American rhythm and blues. |
| The _____ was a revival of African American culture in the 1920s. | Art | The _____ was an artistic group of non-conformist musicians and authors. |
| _____ were the social rebels of the 1920s. They drank, partied, and tested traditional morals. | Social Rebels | _____ were the social rebels of the 1950s. They drank, drove fast cars, and were seen as trouble makers. |